

Revoking Consent in YourHealthNS

You may revoke your consent for displaying your personal health information within YourHealthNS at any time by using the instructions below.

Step 1

To revoke your consent for displaying your personal health information within YourHealthNS, please ensure you are signed in to your My NS Account through the “Records” page on YourHealthNS. Once signed in, please select the “My NS Account” hyperlink.

YourHealthNS App

YourHealthNS.ca website

Step 2

Select “Services” from the sidebar, as shown below.

The screenshot shows the Nova Scotia MyNS account page. The header includes the Nova Scotia logo, navigation links (About, Terms of Use, Privacy Notice, Contact Us), and a language selector (Français). The user is logged in as Mohammad [redacted]. The sidebar on the left contains the following menu items: My Account, Change Account Name, Personal Information, Change Password, Change Email, Change Username, Services (highlighted with a red arrow), Account History, and Delete Account. The main content area displays the user's profile information: First or preferred name (Mohammad), Last name ([redacted]), Username ([redacted]), and Email ([redacted]).

Step 3

The services displayed reflects participating services that you enrolled in using your account. To revoke your consent for displaying your personal health information within YourHealthNS, navigate to the YourHealthNS entry on the page, enter your password, and select “Revoke”.

YourHealthNS

The service will receive the following information:

- First or preferred name
- Last name
- Health card number
- Health card date of birth
- Middle name
- Health card last name
- Health card given name(s)
- Email address

Revoking this service will also revoke:

To access these services in the future, you will need to re-enrol.

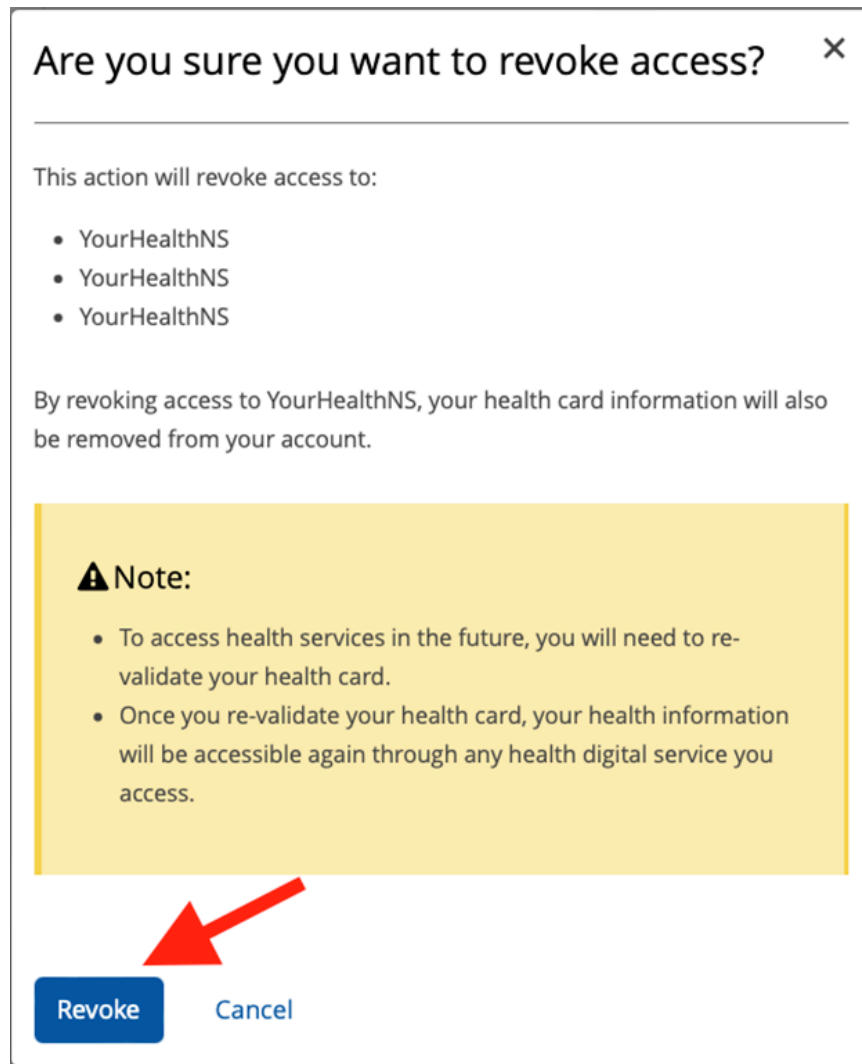

For security purposes, you must re-enter your account password to revoke this service.

Password

Revoke ←

Step 4

A pop-up will appear to ensure you would like to revoke your consent. Please select “Revoke” if you would like to revoke your consent.

Note: To access your records through YourHealthNS in the future, you will need to re-validate your health card. Once you re-validate your health card, your health records will be accessible again through YourHealthNS.

By revoking access to YourHealthNS, your health card information will also be removed from your account.

Step 5

Once selected, you will be redirected to the “My Account” page with a message indicating that your consent for displaying your personal health information within YourHealthNS has been revoked.

